NUTRITION

Nutritional Status and Quality of Life in (Pre)Frail Community-dwelling Older Persons

This study aimed to assess the association between nutritional status and different domains of QoL in (pre)frail community-dwelling elders: There was a significant association between nutritional status and QoL in elderly (pre)frail community-dwelling people, in particular for the QoL domains "autonomy" and "social participation".

NURSING HOME

Prevention of Functional Decline by reframing the role of Nursing Home?

To be more effective, geriatric medicine must evolve to intervene at an earlier stage of the disability process. Could nursing homes (NHs) transform from settings in which many residents dwell to settings in which the NH residents and those living in neighboring communities benefit from staff expertise to enhance quality of life and maintain or slow functional decline?
